Claims 6-13 and 15 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on June 3, 2005.

In particular, the applicant has elected claims 1-5 and 14 for examination and the examiner notes that these claims all read on the species of Figure 10. Applicant's argument that the species of Figures 7 and 8 are not subspecies of Figure 10 is convincing and thus these Figures are now deemed to be non-elected species. If the applicant believes that other claims are now readable on the elected species of Figure 10 then he may identify these claims in his response and the examiner will consider making the next office action non-final.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Xu ('385).

In particular, the applicant's attention is directed to Figures 5, 6, 7 and 8 wherein it is clearly show that a swirl pattern of fuel flow is created in chamber (32) and that this pattern exits as a swirl pattern through exit holes (34). The applicant should note that the claims now pending only require that the swirl exist in the outlet hole and there is no requirement that there be no swirl in the upstream hole.

Claim 5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
